The title of your book, including your subtitle, should go at the top. The upper lefthand corner should have a sharp, high-contrast thumbnail picture of your book jacket. Try to make the thumbnail approximately the height of the information block.

A short, tight synopsis of your book. Address how it answers a need, if it is non-fiction. If it is fiction, you can compare it to other fiction books, as Amazon.com does (if readers enjoyed 'Gone with the Wind' they will enjoy this book, etc.)

Insert short excerpts from your best reviews here.

Write a very short paragraph listing your marketing plan, including your marketing budget, your author and radio tour, and whether you will seek national and regional publicity. Will you be advertising in Consumer and Trade markets? Have you appeared in articles yet? If so, include this information.

Finally, list your bio information and pertinent facts that would establish your credibility. Make sure to end with contact information and include your website.
